Compliance Review Observations

Time & Effort

- NIFA is generally unable to conclude that payroll allocations for staff members with split appointments are accurately or inaccurately charged to NIFA grants. If the certifications are occurring infrequently, we look for support documentation or internal controls to validate charges are allocable, and not based on the original budget estimates, but we are not seeing either.

- The more infrequent the certification, the more support documentation is required. I.e., some type of document/mechanism used by the employee, and reviewed by the certifier, that can assure NIFA that something other than the original budget estimate or an employee’s memory is used to allocate payroll charges.

Segregation of capacity funds in the accounting system

- All Federal and matching funds must be accounted for according to period of performance, through a unique fund, or subfund code. Capacity funds cannot be used as revolving funds. Annual awards are available for the period of performance designated on the award document, and they cannot be used to supplement prior or future awards.

Capacity funds cannot be used for indirect costs

- Indirect costs are disallowed for capacity funds – federal and state match. Utilities can be charged if billed based on square footage, etc. Some support services (accounting, etc.) can be billed if adequate documentation is provided, and if the services is not part of an indirect cost pool. Time and effort reporting requirements are more stringent for support services if charged to capacity. Campus police, shipping/receiving, administrative services at the University level, etc. are not considered allowable as a direct cost.
Grant related outings versus entertainment

- Entertainment costs are unallowable. Some funding (like extension) is generally allowable to support activities like youth camps, but no portion of the funds can be used for entertainment (e.g., roller-skating, water parks). If fees are charged for the entertainment, those fees must cover the full expenses and not be supplemented with grant funds. When considering if a cost will be allowable under the grant, determine whether it is reasonable and necessary to the award. For capacity, it must achieve an objective outlined in the state plan of work.

Equipment Purchases

- Prior approval is required for

- General purpose equipment (2 CFR 200.48) costing $5,000 or more and having a useful life of more than one year; and

- Special purpose equipment (2 CFR 200.89) costing $150,000 or more and having a useful life of more than one year. (Prior approval is waived for special purpose equipment costing less than $150,000.)
